

David George

Director

David is a leader in Attevo's Enterprise Information Management practice, which focuses on solutions that help clients define, manage and govern information as a vital organizational asset. Within this practice, he is responsible for associates and clients nationally.

Prior to Attevo, David worked as a Managing Director at PricewaterhouseCoopers (PwC) where he was instrumental in launching CRM, Telecommunications and Oil & Gas practices. After his sixteen-year career at PwC, he became the Founder & Principal at Integrated Decision Resources. There he offered IT strategy, acquisition due diligence and IT/Systems Implementation services for private equity firms.

David has a strong senior-level IT background from his experiences as Partner at Arthur Anderson, Regional Vice President at Oracle Corporation and Senior Executive at Accenture. He has twenty-four years of experience working with Fortune 500 companies and emerging companies in Oil & Gas, Telecommunications, High Technology, Financial Services, Hospitality and Aerospace & Defense Industries. David has worked with such companies as Verisign, Dell, Starwood, Northrop Grumman, AT&T, Verizon (MCI/UUNet), NTT Verio, BP (Amoco) and Shell Oil.

David holds a B.B.A. in Computer Information Systems, Texas State University, where he graduated Cum Laude.
