

Jim R Hackbarth

President & CEO, Assurex Global

In August 2003, Jim Hackbarth was appointed President and CEO of Assurex Global, the world's largest privately held risk management and commercial insurance brokerage group.

Jim has experience in all phases of management including business planning, acquisitions, joint ventures, revenue generation strategic alliances, product development and international sales and marketing.

With a solid track record in technology, Jim previously served as CEO of Cornerstone, the high-tech consulting and executive recruiting firm he founded in 1996. Previously, he held executive positions with the international software company, Information Dimensions, as well as Agency Management Services, Leader Systems, Policy Management Systems, Price Waterhouse and IBM.

Jim received a BSBA and MBA from The Ohio State University and sits on various boards.