

Randy Johnson

Partner

Randy Johnson leads Attevo's Information Technology (IT) Management practice. Randy has significant experience in developing and executing IT strategy, infrastructure repositioning, application portfolio analysis, IT reorganization, data center migrations, consolidations and aligning the IT organization with business objectives.

Before joining Attevo, Randy was a partner for Coopers & Lybrand and PricewaterhouseCoopers and later held executive positions at IBM - responsible for both technology and business process practices. Throughout his career, he has completed projects for various Fortune 10, 50 and 100 firms in the retail, international oil & gas, and consumer products sectors. Randy has also recently worked on projects with a major US pharmaceutical company, a semiconductor equipment manufacturer, a nation-wide building supply company, a major fast food company and major communications companies.

During his many assignments, Randy has led Merger & Acquisition IT engagements and conducted due diligence, which has resulted in streamlining enterprise-wide application portfolios and operations infrastructures, in addition to restructuring IT organization within companies.

Randy holds a Bachelor of Science in Mathematics from Purdue University.
